PRICE THREE CENTS

STILL RAIDED, TWO HELD FOR FEDERAL COURT

Two North Carolina men arrested Thursday afternoon when federal agents raided a home a half mile west of Mummaburg and seized a 200-gallon whiskey still, were held for United States district court Friday by U. S. Commissioner Edward B. Bullett. They were taken to the Dauphin county jail in default of $5,000 bail each.

Commissioner Bullett gave their names as Lee Gene Shew, of North Wilkesboro R. 3, and Claude Milton Anderson, of Wilkesboro. Following their arrest they were held Thursday night in the Adams county jail.

They were held for federal court on two charges: possession, custody or control of an unlicensed still and possession of fermenting mash, wort or wash, "fit for producing spirits," on premises not licensed for the production of alcohol.

On Bucher Farm
The "raid" was conducted on the Crowell Bucher farm, Gettysburg R. 3, by Raymond S. Hartman, criminal investigator for the alcohol and tobacco tax division of the U. S. Treasury department, who filed the information; William H. Carlson, Raymond Wilson and Murray L. McCartney, also of the federal tax division, and Norman L. Hunter and Lester V. Baumgardner of the Pennsylvania state liquor control board.

Hartman testified at the hearing Friday before Commissioner Bullett that he and the others went to the Bucher farm about 2 p.m. Thursday. They saw two men leave the house, get into a car and drive away. They were unable to stop them then, but arrested Shew and Anderson later when their car became mired.

First Raid In Years
A search of the farmhouse turned up the following items, according to federal agents: one 200-gallon copper still with 35-gallon wooden barrel doubler and two-inch copper tubing; seven wooden mash fermenters, each of 150-gallon capacity; 600 gallons of fermenting mash in four fermenters; 18 cases of half-gallon glass jars; two kerosene cans; two sump pumps; a 12-foot metal trough with 22 feet of copper tubing; an empty kerosene tank; two kerosene stoves and 550 pounds of granulated sugar.

Raiders said there was no liquor in the house, and the mash was not cooking at the time of the raid, because of water in the cellar, where the still and other equipment was set up.

This is the first raid by federal tax division men in Adams county in years.

RECOVER MANY STOLEN SIGNS

A number of signs were pointed toward home today, judging by borough police reports.

Sergeant Kepner, of the Carlisle police, called Friday and reported that a sign marked "U.S. Avenue" had been found in that borough and he would like to return it to the local National Park.

Borough Policeman Charles W. Culp, Jr., collected a number of signs which had apparently been gathered in the Lancaster area.

One of the signs, a metal one, relates "U.S. Army and Air Force Recruiting Station, Lancaster." In addition there were four wooden signs, apparently taken from crossroads, listing "Goodville, 1," "Turnpike" and "Lebanon 30."

Officer Culp received the signs from a caretaker at the "barracks on Lincoln avenue" while in the area on other duty.

Victim Of Fumes Reported Serious

The condition of Hoye Boone Martin, 46, Fairfield R. 1, who was found unconscious Thursday night at a home on Fraley's road, near Emmitsburg, was described as serious at the Warner hospital today.

Martin was overcome by carbon monoxide fumes from a faulty furnace pipe, which also claimed the life of Miss Grace Louise Keckler.

HOLD FUNERAL TODAY

Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Bender funeral home for Mrs. Clara Mumper, 81, formerly of Gettysburg, who died Monday afternoon in Coral Gable, Fla. The Rev. Dr. Ralph R. Gresh officiated. Interment was in Evergreen cemetery. The pallbearers were Joseph, Frank, James and William Mumper, Dr. Allen Watts and Mahlon Watts.

Can't Damage Old Markers

It is now illegal to move or damage the Mason-Dixon line markers along the southern border of Adams county—almost 190 years after they were placed.

The situation resulted from a survey made along the Maryland-Pennsylvania border in 1950. Out of 218 boundary monuments four were missing and some had been damaged.

The U. S. Board of Natural Resources announced that both Maryland and Delaware, upon which the line touches, have made it a misdemeanor to move or damage any of the markers.

Maryland and Pennsylvania are now planning to restore and replace the monuments which are extant. This will be done as soon as funds are available. The markers which run along Adams county's southern border, however, are generally in good condition.

Charles Mason and Jeremiah Dixon set the stones between 1763 and 1767.

COUNTY AUDIT SHOWS $140,602 BALANCE JAN. 1

The Adams county auditors today completed the annual audit of the county's books.

Their final figures showed the county had $140,602.96 in the bank as of January 1, 1952, and that the county paid off $16,000 worth of debt and closed the year approximately $20,000 ahead of 1951.

Those total figures were for both the county fund and the institution district fund. The county funds showed a balance of $90,373 as of January 1, compared with the 1951 balance of $80,079.26. The institution district fund had a 1952 balance of $60,522.80 as compared with 1951's balance of $50,339.22.

Have Reserve Funds
In both instances the large balances are a reserve the commissioners and institution district board have against the necessity of borrowing money. There is a long waiting period between the time the tax duplicates are sent out for the year and the time the tax money is paid into the treasurer's office. The $140,602 cushions the lean period before taxes and permits the county to pay its bills as it goes without borrowing.

Expenses during the year included $152,763.74 for the county and $78,432.52 for the institution district. Of the $20,545.02 spent to care for the approximately 120 children under child welfare, $12,476.94 went for boarding. The county home had to pay out $8,759.77 for groceries in addition to what it raised itself, and the county jail had to spend $6,055.14 to feed the prisoners there.

Donated $10,855.60
It cost the county $14,794.08 for the persons it had in correctional and penal institutions, and total county jail costs were $10,861.77. The county donated $10,855.60 including $3,500 for the county library, $2,500 for the Warner hospital, $500 for the South Mountain Fair and $4,355.60 for the county agricultural extension association.

Military expenses totaled $5,150.54 including, $1,285 for burials for veterans, $3.00 for the national guard and $2,825.52 for the (Continued on Page 2)

St. Patrick's Day

O'Brien, O'Connell, O'Regan, Oh, My!

"O and Paddy dear and did you hear the news that's going around . . . that Monday is St. Patrick's Day and, faith 'tis a bit o' green that ye'll be wearin' though your name isn't O'Brien, O'Connell, O'Regan or O'Ryan."

And, begorra, ye'll be after tippin' your hat to the first colleen ye meet on Baltimore street. Her cheeks will be pink as the roses of Killarney and she'll be wearin' shamrocks as green as those that grow by the river Shannon. Ye'll be after tellin' her a bit o' the blarney and she'll be believin' it!

And ye'll be on your way to the office whistling the Londonderry Air like any good Irishman.

Green Bow Ties

Have you ever wondered why people wear little white pipes, small gold harps and green satin bow ties on March 17? Sure, and it's in honor of St. Patrick, you say. And just who was this Saint of the Emerald Isle?

To begin with, believe it or not, St. Patrick wasn't an Irishman. He was born in Glasgow, Scotland, in the year 387, which makes him Scotch, more or less. At 16, the lad, who was descended from a Roman family of high rank, was carried into captivity by Irish barbarians and

COLLEGE CHOIR LEAVES SUNDAY ON SPRING TOUR

The Gettysburg College Choir of 52 voices, under the direction of Prof. Parker B. Wagnild, will leave at noon Sunday on its annual spring tour.

Eleven concerts will be given by the choir on its swing from Washington, D. C., through Maryland, Virginia, North and South Carolina and Georgia. The trip will be made in two chartered buses. Mrs. Wagnild will accompany her husband and members of the choir.

The first concert will be at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Keller Memorial Lutheran church, Maryland avenue and 9th street, N.E., Washington. At 8 o'clock the choir will sing in St. Luke's Evangelical Lutheran church, Colespring road and Highland drive, Silver Spring, Md.

Other Concert Cities

Other points on the itinerary are: March 17, 8 p.m., First Baptist church, Newport News, Va.; March 18, 8 p.m., Meredith college and Holy Trinity church, Raleigh, N. C., co-sponsors; March 19, 8 p.m., Buford Methodist church, Limestone college, Gaffney, N. C.; March 20, 8:15 p.m., St. Matthew's Lutheran church, Charleston, S. C.; March 21, 11:45 a.m., Church of the Resurrection, Augusta, Ga.; March 23, 8 p.m., Lexington high school, Lexington, S. C.; March 24, 7:30 p.m., Kimball Memorial Lutheran church, Kannapolis, N. C.; March 25, 8 p.m., St. Mark's Lutheran church, Roanoke, Va., and March 26, 7:30 p.m., Grace Lutheran church, Winchester, Va.

The choir will stay in Charleston S. C., the nights of March 20 and 21, and in Augusta March 22.

Gettysburg members of the choir are Jane E. Deardorff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erle Deardorff, Carlisle street, Charlotte, Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rogers, West Middle street, and Donald E. Bollinger, son of Mrs. E. Bollinger, Steinwehr avenue, and Edgar Bollinger, Emmitsburg road. Miss Julia Yost, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Charles L. Yost, Biglerville, is also a member.

Here And There News Collected At Random

The drive for voluntary subscriptions to a fund to purchase a new organ for the A.M.E. Zion church, South Washington street, Gettysburg, is expected to go "over the top" early next week. . . and if it does, the new instrument will be installed in time to be dedicated Easter Sunday morning.

This conclusion is based on the assumption that donations, in sufficient amount, will continue over the week-end thus assuring complete success of the drive.

The new instrument will be bought and paid for, a receipt in full presented to the pastor, Rev. J. O. Fountain, together with a list of all the contributors. The amount of each donation will not be repeated. They had been reported in The Times at the time they were received.

J. Blaine Saltzer, who is employed in Philadelphia, is visiting his family in Gettysburg over the week-end.

Mrs. E. J. McIlhenny To Be Buried Today

Funeral services for Mrs. Emma Jane McIlhenny, 81, who died Thursday night at her home, 430 Carlisle street, will be held at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Bender funeral home. The Rev. Clyde R. Brown will officiate. Interment will be in Evergreen cemetery.

The pallbearers will be Atty. Franklin R. Bigham, Atty. Donald P. McPherson, William Pensyl, William Lott, John Lott and Prof. Herbert Hamme.

10 SCHOOLS ARE REPRESENTED AT CAREER MEETING

More than 1,100 junior and senior high school students from Gettysburg, Biglerville, New Oxford, Littlestown, East Berlin, Fairfield, Delton, Emmitsburg public, St. Joseph's, Emmitsburg, and Thurmont jammed Gettysburg college Friday afternoon for the eighth annual career conference sponsored by the Adams County Schoolmen's association.

They gathered first at the college gymnasium where they heard two numbers by the Gettysburg College choir under the direction of Prof. Parker B. Wagnild and a talk by Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of the college, on the opportunities for modern day youth and the need for honesty and integrity.

In groups they then attended 38 different conferences based on careers ranging from advertising to shop trades. Dr. Frank Kramer, chairman of the schoolmen's committee which arranged the conference, presided at the joint session in the gymnasium and at a coffee hour for consultants and chairmen held in Hanson hall following the conference.

Chairmen Listed

Students arrived at the conference by school bus and were guided to their various conferences by members of the Gettysburg college chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, the national Boy Scout fraternity.

Among the chairmen and secretaries for the various conferences, were: Advertising, Richard Strayer, Arthur G. Trudeau, Jr.; agriculture, section one, Richard Lighter, Edward Brownlee; agriculture, section two, Eimer Shriver, Robert Stambaugh; commercial art, Mrs. Helen Jane Shelly, Jane L. Bowers; aviation, Charles Taylor, Glenwood Solomon; beauty culture, section one, Miss Ruth McIlhenny, Barbara Alerstock; beauty culture, section two, Mrs. Lester O. Johnson, Barbara Slothower; broadcasting, John Kratzert, Donald Baugher.

Professions Well Covered

Business administration, John O'Brien, Henry Greybill; dentistry, George A. Miller, Jr., secretary; professional engineering, Charles Tressler, John C. Byrne; practical engineering, Ray Shetter, Boyd E. Thomas; fashion designing, Arlene Rohrbaugh, Gladys L. Hicks; forestry, Thomas Shade, Samuel Shaulls; government service, Arthur Gordon, Curvin Smith; home economics, Mrs. Mary Stock and a Lorraine Hartman; journalism, Mrs. Sara Gideon, Genevieve M. Lotz.

PRESENT ORGAN CONCERT SUNDAY

Phillip E. McGuire, organist-choir director of the Presbyterian church, will present a program of organ music Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the church under the auspices of the music committee. His selections will include works by Bossi, Penick, Vierne, Gigout and others.

The recital will be the first in a series of three Lenten musicals. The second will be presented March 23, J. W. McGarvey, cellist, and the third will be given on March 30 by Charles Penick, trumpeter.

No formal offering will be received at these recitals. However, a plate will be placed in the rear of the church. All contributions received at this series of recitals will be turned over to the A.M.E. church organ fund, sponsored by The Gettysburg Times

OUTLINE WORK AT LABORATORY COMING SEASON

Scientists, farmers, Penn State officials and processors gathered Friday at the South Mountain Fruit Research laboratory at Arendtsville to go over the work of the lab and make their recommendations for the coming year's studies by the resident scientists.

One problem scheduled for this coming year is a study of the influence of chemicals used to control mites in apple orchards in russeting the fruit. Dean Asquith, entomologist at the laboratory, promised to take up the matter during the coming year to determine whether the suspicions that it is the mite spray which is russeting the apples are well founded, and if they are, to find some spray that will kill the mite without spotting the apple.

To Prepare For Locusts

Asquith will have more than the mite spray experiments to work with in the laboratory, in the laboratory's orchards and in the orchards of growers who work with the lab in various experiments. He added that more information is needed about such insects as red-banded leaf roller and plum curculio and he plans to continue studies into their behavior and what kills them. Asquith also was given the duty of looking for control measures for periodical cicada, better known as the 17-year locust, which is due to make its appearance in this region. So far the only chemical spray known to be of use against the locusts is TEPP. Asquith reported at Friday's session.

Dr. Fred Lewis, plant pathologist at the laboratory, was unable to be present for Friday's meeting, but left a written report indicating that certain new chemicals with which he is experimenting are showing promise in the treatment of peaches for brown rot after picking.

Continue Other Tests

Bud-worm of cherry tree from the virus of ring-spot and yellows is now being made available to nurseries, according to Lewis' report. An extensive program of indexing cherry stock is now underway at the laboratory and at State College, Lewis reported, with the indexing necessary because ring-spot and yellows can be transmitted through the seed, root stock or scion.

Variety testing of apples and peaches is being continued at the laboratory, Frank N. Hewitson, pomologist, reported. Peach introductions from Illinois tried over the past five years have proven that their fruit is too soft for commercial purposes, he said. The Illinois types will be replaced this year by introductions from Missouri.

Cover Crops Discussed

Observations are under way of cases of minor mineral element deficiencies in orchards, Hewitson said. In some instances, he added, treatment has been necessary.

STATE RECEIVES $1,143 IN TAX

Thirty-three Adams county properties, totalling approximately 360 acres, changed hands during February, according to the monthly report made by the county commissioners to the state Tax Equalization board.

Sale price of the properties was $114,310 according to the one-percent state tax placed on the transfer of properties. The tax went into effect February 1, with the state receiving $1,143.10. In January, when a high was set for property transfers, 129 properties were sold, many apparently in anticipation of the tax.

The transfers of property during February brought $1,276.80 to the state and federal government. Federal taxes totalled $133.70 on the deeds.

Only Four Farms

Four of the properties, containing 234 acres, were farms. The federal government purchased slightly more than 102 acres in Liberty and Hamiltonban township at the Beard lot, and paid $3.30 in federal taxes on the deeds. While the federal government in buying property did not have to pay state tax, it did have to pay the U. S. tax on the deeds.

Of the properties sold, one was in Biglerville, one in Butler township, one in Conewago township, one in Cumberland, three in East Berlin, one in Fairfield, one in Germany, two in Gettysburg, one in Hamiltonban, one in Highland, two in Huntingdon, three in Liberty, one in both Liberty and Hamiltonban, five in Littlestown, two in McSherrystown, one each in Reading, Menallen, Mt. Joy townships, two in Mt. Pleasant, one in Straban and one in Union township.

A good mattress and restful sleep go hand in hand . . . and both can be had when you buy a famous Herr mattress, now only $34.75 (regularly $44.75) at N. O. Sixes Appliances and Furniture, Chambersburg and Washington

State Car, Truck Collide Wednesday

A Cadillac automobile owned by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, department of property and supplies, Harrisburg, and a pastry truck owned by the Dillsburg Bakers, collided on the Harrisburg road a mile north of Gettysburg Wednesday afternoon, state police of the Gettysburg substation reported today.

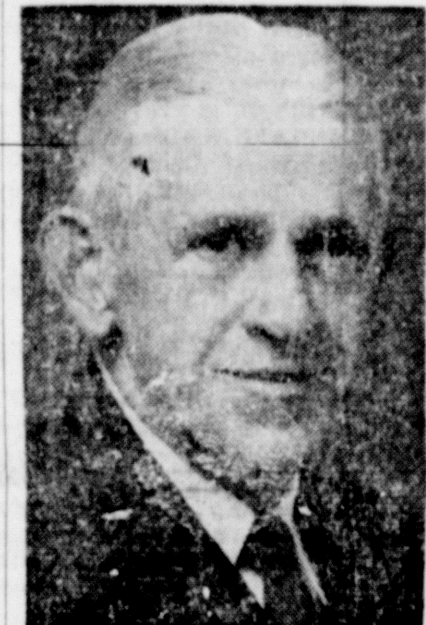

The state car was driven by Charles Graci, 30, of Harrisburg, and the truck by Roy D. Griest, 60, of Dillsburg. Police said Griest drove to the left side of the highway preparatory to making a stop, and Graci, who was about to pass the truck, struck the rear part of the vehicle.

No one was injured, according to police. Damage to the automobile was estimated at $700, and to the truck at $150.

LAMBDA CHI PLACES FIRST IN SKIT CONTEST

Hundreds of alumni returned to Gettysburg college Friday night to attend the opening festivities of the 17th annual interfraternity week-end.

Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity won the skit prize award at the gym get-together Friday evening with a short musical entitled "An American in Paris."

CHARLES E. PLEDGER, JR.

ican in Paris." SAE placed second and Sigma Chi third.

Phi Sigma Kappa won top singing honors with TKE second and Phi Kappa Psi third. Between the presentations of awards and the announcement of the skit winners, the Phi Sig chorus entertained with four selections.

Banquet At Hotel

The week-end opened formally Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock with a pledge banquet at Hotel Gettysburg where Charles E. Pledger, Jr., chairman of the national interfraternity conference, spoke. Giving a description of the function of the NIC, Mr. Pledger stated that the group has no executive power but merely serves as an advisory group. Simultaneous with the pledge banquet, dinner conferences were held at 11 fraternity houses. Leaders of the discussions were national fraternity officers.

The gym get-together followed where Mr. Pledger traced the National Interfraternity conference organization, Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson welcomed the group and reiterated his belief in fraternities.

Present Trophies

After songs and skits by the 11 fraternities, Robert Emery, president of the college interfraternity council, presented trophies to fraternities who won contests during the past year. The winners included: scholarship, second semester, 1951, Phi Delta Theta, who retired the trophy; highest pledge average, Phi Sigma Kappa; scholarship, first semester, 1951-52, Phi Delta Theta; scholarship, second, Phi Sigma Kappa; (Continued on Page 2)

Compromise "Package Deal" To Settle Five Issues Obstructing Korean Truce Is Offered Reds

Seoul, Korea, March 15 (AP) — American Sabre jets destroyed at least 15 Russian-built MIG-15 jets this week with the loss of only one swept-wing fighter in air combat, the Fifth Air Force announced today.

Seven United Nations planes were lost during the week to ground fire and other causes.

In its regular weekly summary the Fifth Air Force said 15 MIGs were destroyed, one probably destroyed, and ten damaged. It said one American Sabre jet was lost in air combat, four Allied planes lost to Red ground fire, and three lost from unknown causes, possibly mechanical failure. Some of the U. N. pilots were picked up and returned to Allied lines.

Overcast and scattered clouds blanketed most of North Korea Saturday. United Nations planes concentrated on the Red front lines.

Four ground-hugging F-80 Shooting Stars roared out of the mist in a deadly surprise attack on a Communist mortar platoon on the eastern front.

Pilots said they killed 50 soldiers and knocked out 12 gun positions.

The attack was north of the punchbowl, where the Reds have heavy concentrations of mortar and artillery batteries.

SAMUEL BAKER WILL OBSERVE 95TH BIRTHDAY

Samuel H. Baker, lifelong resident of Hamilton township, will observe his 95th birthday Monday. Mr. Baker and his wife, the former Miss Julia Kitzmiller, who is 90, make their home with an only child, Mrs. Gertrude Baker Wisler, near Mummaburg's meeting house. A dinner party, with all the grandchildren and great-grandchildren attending, will be held Sunday at the Wisler home.

Mr. Baker was born on a farm near Abbotstown on St. Patrick's day, 1857, a son of the late Daniel and Sarah Wolf Baker. He has been a farmer all his life. He moved to the farm where he resides when he was seven, but later resided on the present John Bechtel farm in Reading township and the farm owned by Ira Rinehart.

Mr. Baker gave up farming in 1946 because of his wife's health. The latter, however, has recovered, except for failing eyesight, and is able to assist her daughter with light housework. Mr. Baker is in good health and assists his grandson, Merrill Wisler, in the care of livestock and other farm chores.

Mr. Baker is the oldest elder of the Upper Conewago Church of the Brethren.

Sergeant Cole Is Returning From Korea

Sergeant Richard C. Cole, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Cole, 51 East Stevens street, now with the 30th weather squadron in Korea, will return to the United States this month, according to the public information office of the Fifth Air Force. Sgt. Cole is a senior weather observer on active duty with the United Nations forces.

Upon arrival in the United States, Sgt. Cole will be assigned to Headquarters 260th Mobile Weather Squadron, Tinker air force base, Oklahoma. He has completed 22 months of duty in the Far East, and has been awarded the Japan occupation medal and Korean service medal.

12 North Koreans Killed In Bloody Riot At Prison Camp

Tokyo, March 15 (AP) — A second bloody riot in less than a month at the U.N. command's crowded Kojima island prison camp brought death to 12 North Korean prisoners and left 26 other prisoners wounded Thursday, the army announced today.

One American officer and a South Korean civilian were injured. The army did not say whether the wounded prisoners were North Koreans or Chinese.

The riot broke out when diehard Communist prisoners in a separate compound began stoning a work party of cooperative prisoners and a detachment of South Korean troops, the general headquarters announced today.

ing fully with the orders of the authorities."

The International Red Cross has been asked to investigate the incident and the U.N. command is making its own inquiry.

Seventy-five Korean civilian internees and a soldier of the U.S. 27th Infantry regiment died in a Communist-led riot at Kojima Feb. 18. Twenty-two American soldiers and 129 internees were wounded.

Red truce negotiators at Panmunjom have made propaganda capital of the first Kojima riot and Allied spokesmen predict bitter attacks from the Communists as the result of Thursday's outbreak.

Observers said the Reds can be expected to use the riots as a lever in an attempt to force the U.N. command to give up demands that no prisoners be repatriated against their will. The Communists insist on forced repatriation.

Munsan, Korea, March 15 (AP) — U.N. negotiators today offered the Communists a compromise "package deal" to settle five secondary issues blocking agreement on how to police a Korean armistice. The Reds indicated they would buy only part of the package.

In an adjoining tent Communist negotiators savagely accused the U.N. Allies of "illegally" killing prisoners of war in a bloody riot Thursday at the U.N. command's Kojima island prison.

United Nations command spokesmen predicted the Reds would seize on the incident and use it for an all-out attack on Allied demands that war prisoners be given the right to choose whether they are to be repatriated. The Communists want all prisoners returned, regardless of their wishes.

Hint Strong Protest

"We'll undoubtedly be hearing more later," Rear Adm. R. E. Libby told newsmen after advising the Communists of the latest Kojima riot in which 12 Communists were killed and 26 injured.

The Reds branded the riot a "sanitary incident" and reserved the right to speak out later on the matter. They indicated a strong protest would be forthcoming.

Before the 21-minute session ended the Reds accepted a U.N. proposal to turn the deadlocked prisoner exchange negotiations back to staff officers.

U.N. Allied staff officers working on truce supervision offered conditionally to accept the Red proposal to inspect only five ports of entry during an armistice and to yield on two other points if the Communists gave in on two issues. The U.N. has wanted six ports inspected on each side.

The Reds immediately accepted the three U.N. concessions and indicated they weren't interested in talking about the other two points. However, North Korean Col. Chang Chun Sang showed enough interest to ask whether the U.N. "package" was a formal proposal.

RED CROSS FUND TOTAL IS $5,042

Donations to the annual Red Cross fund drive today boosted the total contributions to $5,042.30.

A donation of $75 from the local Moose lodge, $50 from the Woman's Club of Gettysburg, $30 from the First National bank of Gettysburg and $25 donations from the Benderville fire company, Gettysburg Rotary club, local Eagles lodge and the Gettysburg National bank head the list of business place contributions to the Red Cross fund drive.

Other donations include the following:

$15—Annie Danner club.
$10—Gettysburg chapter, DAR; VFW auxiliary; Gettysburg Exchange club; Order of the Eastern Star; St. James Methodist society and International Women's Club of Gettysburg.

$5—Bonneauville fire company; Gettysburg IOOF; Liberty Fire company, No. 1, East Berlin; Farmers bank, McSherrystown; Mothers' Class of St. James Lutheran church Sunday school; Gettysburg Sorority club; Gettysburg chapter, AAUW; Women of the Moose; VFW; Mary Gettys Rebekah lodge; Beta Sigma Phi sorority; Gettysburg Alumnae club of Alpha Xi Delta.

$2.50—Queen of Peace council

RADAR EXPERT WILL ADDRESS AIR ROTC UNIT

Col. Charles W. Skeele, commanding officer of the 1st Air Reserve district, Harrisburg, and past president of the Reserve Officers Association of the United States, will speak Tuesday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock at Bruc chapel.

While the talk by Colonel Skeele on the Air Force Reserve program is primarily for the junior and senior classes of the Army and Air Force ROTC units of Gettysburg college, the session is open to the public, with reserve officers particularly invited.

As commanding officer of the 1st Air Reserve district, Colonel Skeele has command control of more than 40,000 air reservists in the state, including the 2253rd Air Force Reserve training center at Pittsburgh, three volunteer air reserve training groups at Philadelphia, Wilkes-Barre and Coraopolis and 15 volunteer air reserve training squadrons throughout the state. He also commands the 2237th Air Force Reserve training center at New Castle county airport, Wilmington, Del.

Began As Private
The 1st Air Reserve district is one of four which the Air Force is activating on an experimental basis to improve its reserve establishment from the standpoint of national security and for the best interests of individual reservists and reserve units.

Colonel Skeele, a World War I private, in World War II served as an American liaison officer with the Royal Air Force radar school, helped establish the radar school at Boca Raton, Fla., and served in Europe with the 9th Air Force. He was presented with the commendation ribbon for his part in developing use of radar in combat operations.

In his civilian capacity he is Pennsylvania and New Jersey manager for the Cooperative Grange League Federation.

PRICE OF PORK SLIGHTLY LOWER

Little change was noted in prices at the Farmers Market this morning.

Egg prices showed probably the greatest variations, ranging from 38 to 45 cents for mediums, and 48 to 55 cents for large, with the prices reflecting the general lowness of the egg market at the present time.

Apples continued at approximately 25 cents a quarter peck, 40 cents a half peck and $2 to $2.50 a bushel, with variations of a few cents depending on variety and quality.

Pussywills, the perennial harbinger of spring, were on sale at 20 to 25 cents a bunch.

Pork Slightly Lower

Potatoes were $3 a bushel; turnips and parsnips, 20 cents a box; onions, 20 cents a box; apple snitz, 35 cents a box; butter, 70 to 80 cents a pound; apple butter, 50 cents a jar.

Pork prices were generally slightly lower with ham at 70 to 75 cents; backbones and ribs at 50 cents a pound, a drop of a nickel; sausage, 60 cents; pudding, 60 cents; shoulder roasts, 65 cents; pudding, 60; bacon, 60 cents; scrapple, 25 cents; and other prices in proportion.

Chickens were selling generally at 60 cents a pound; whipping cream, 40 cents; potato salad, 35 cents; cottage cheese, 20 cents; bread and rolls, 20 cents; pies, 40 to 50 cents; cookies, 30 cents a dozen, and cakes, $1 to $1.25.

JURY CONVICTS TRUMAN'S PAL

St. Louis, March 15 (AP)—A federal court jury early today convicted former Internal Revenue Collector James P. Finnegan on two misconduct in office charges.

The 11 men and one woman freed him of three other counts—including two of bribery.

Finnegan, 51, personal friend of President Truman, took the decision quietly, but members of his family in the court room appeared stunned.

The verdict came at 1:18 a.m. (EST) after nine hours of deliberation.

U. S. District Judge Ruben M. Hulen will pronounce sentence March 24. Maximum penalty under the conviction is four years in prison and $20,000 in fines.

The counts under which Finnegan was found guilty involved acceptance of $5,000 from the Warwick Hotel Corporation for helping the firm in a claim against the Coast Guard for damage during World War II occupancy, and for taking $3,000 from the American Lithofold Corporation to represent the St. Louis printing firm in connection with a Reconstruction Finance Corporation loan.

STATE C OF C DRAFTS REPORT

The committee on national legislation of the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce Thursday completed its recommendations to the state chamber following a meeting at Harrisburg under direction of the committee's chairman, Edmund W. Thomas, president of The First National bank here.

The committee recommended that the state chamber go on record that all wage and price controls in the defense production act be dropped when the act expires June 30; that the state chamber urge that construction of the Niagara power project be by private interests rather than federal; urged adoption of the Hoover commission recommendations by the federal government; recommended that the Tideland oil control be retained by the states; urged that members of the state Chamber of Commerce join with similar "task forces" from other state Chambers of Commerce to urge on all senators and representatives that federal expenditures be reduced and the national budget balanced, and recommended to the state C of C that it uphold the constitution cherry orchard cover crop trials now in its first year at the laboratory. Mulching is also being tried as a general orchard practice. He added that, in general, mulches provide a fire hazard and a harbor for mice. Refuse materials from canning plants are also being tried and appear to offer some promise, Hewetson said. He reported on chemicals being used for control of weeds and for thinning and post-harvest drop.

Preliminary results indicate that ladino clover cover crops provide sufficient nitrogen for apple orchards, R. B. Alderfer, soils technologist, reported. Blue grass grows more rapidly, he said, as a result of fertilization with nitrogen, but probably prevents the trees from absorbing as much of the fertilizer as they would if the grass were not present.

New Soil Conditioner
Alderfer added that Ladino appears to take more moisture from the soil than bluegrass. He also reported that he hopes to have small quantities of the new soil conditioner, Kryllium, for tests this year. So far the material is too expensive for general orchard application, he reported.

Members of the advisory committee for the laboratory, which is a branch of the Pennsylvania Agricultural Experiment station, included John U. Reuf, pomologist, John Pepper, entomologist, R. C. Kirby, plant pathologist, all State College extension specialists; Henry Thurston, Jr., and John Boyle, plant pathologists, R. C. Alderfer, soils technologist, W. B. Mack, horticulture, D. G. White and Loren Tukey, pomologists, all from State College; County Agent M. T. Hartman, George Shriver, Bendersville, F. E. Griest, Flora Dale, Oliver Heacock, Biglerville, Assistant County Agent Fred Attinger, John A. Hauser, president of the C. H. Musselman company, H. M. Steiner, Flora Dale, R. C. Lott, Aspers, Harvey Raffensperger, Arendtsville, J. Willis Beidler, Biglerville, all of Adams county; Franklin County Agent J. H. Knode, John R. Crisswell, Chambersburg, R. Johnston Gillan, St. Thomas, Henry Heisey, Mercersburg, Crist C. Miller, Chambersburg, Henry E. Warner, Chambersburg, all of Franklin county; J. N. Davis, Carlisle, and L. O. Mowery, Newville, Cumberland county representatives, and H. M. Anderson, New Park, J. B. Kauffman, York, George Goodling, Loganville, and John Hope Anderson, New Park, all of York county.

The Good Will class of Flohr's Lutheran Sunday school will meet Tuesday evening at the home of Miss June Kump, McKnightstown.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kleinfelter, Baltimore, are spending the week-end with Mr. Kleinfelter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd W. Kleinfelter, Biglerville.

Tickets for the Kitchenette Variety Show, "Adams County Apple-cade," will be available at the firemen's supper in Biglerville this evening.

The Aspers Fire company auxiliary will meet Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the fire hall. Reports from the committees in charge of the spring banquet will be given. The time and place committee include Mrs. Harvey Ennet and Mrs. Robert Eisenhart. The program committee includes Mrs. Lester Davis, Peach Glenn, Mrs. David Pitzer and Mrs. Arthur Hoffman.

The annual congregational social of the Trinity Lutheran church of Arendtsville was held Thursday evening in the social room of the church. About 175 persons were present. Brief talks were given by the Rev. Robert Schiebel, pastor, and Roy Heckenluber, president of the church council.

A vocal duet was presented by the Misses Sara Rice and Ann Luckenbaugh, accompanied by pianist, Miss Gwenn Burgoon. A moving picture, "45 Tioga Street," was shown. Luther M. Lady led the assembly in group singing.

Arrangements for the social were in charge of the outgoing councilmen and their wives. They included Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carey, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bream and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Oyler.

Mr. and Mrs. Waybright Black have moved from the property of Mrs. Francis Orner in Bendersville to their property near Wernville.

Miss Jean Garretson, of the faculty of the York schools, is spending the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd W. Garretson, Arendtsville.

Miss Joyce Heckenluber, Miss Ann Frederick, Fred Frederick and Dale Hoffman, Arendtsville, will attend a hockey game at Hershey this evening.

A special service will be held at Flohr's Lutheran church, McKnightstown, Sunday evening at 7 o'clock at which the new Stewardship film, "45 Tioga Street," will be shown.

Mrs. Charles C. Zeigler entertained the members of the Carnation Guild Thursday afternoon at her home in Arendtsville.

Says 1,428 Jap Prisoners In Jail

Tokyo, March 15 (AP)—The attorney general's office reported yesterday there are now 1,108 Japanese war criminals imprisoned in Japan and 320 more serving sentences in foreign jails.

The announcement was made while cabinet vice ministers met to work out legislation for detailed supervision of all prisoners after ratification of the Japanese peace treaty.

and states rights in all matters of legislation.

Cite Storage Shortage
In connection with price and wage controls, members of the committee claimed "the only shortage is a shortage of warehouses for storage." In connection with federal expenditures, they noted that in a previous contact with congressmen they were asked to put pressure on local chambers of commerce to refrain from asking for expensive federal projects in their own localities until such time as military expenditures can be lowered.

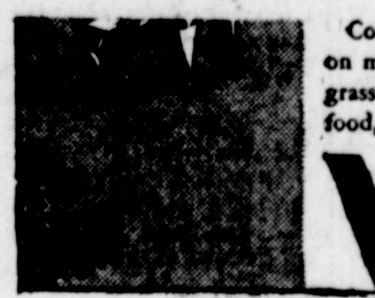

Arrangements were made by the committee to hold the state chamber of commerce's annual congressional dinner in Washington March 29.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

FRANK GARDNER PILOTEED MANY EIWA ENTRANTS

One of the most interested persons in the outcome of the Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling Association championships being held at Lehigh University, Bethlehem, this week-end is Frank "Sprig" Gardner, a graduate of Gettysburg high school.

No less than 14 of the entrants were coached by Gardner, who is the mat mentor at Metham high school, Baltimore, Long Island.

Former Gardner-coached lads are entered as follows: Syracuse, five; Penn State and Lehigh, three; Cornell, Franklin and Marshall, and Brown, one each.

During his 16 years at Metham high, Gardner's grapplers compiled winning streaks of 100 and 91. He is regarded as one of the outstanding scholastic mat coaches in the country.

While a student at Gettysburg high, Gardner played varsity football, basketball and baseball. Wrestling has never been a part of the local school curriculum. "Sprig" graduated from Franklin and Marshall college, Lancaster.

HURLERS BACK IN FORM FOR WORRIED LEO

By RALPH RODEN

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Manager Leo Durocher of the New York Giants can relax a bit now—his well heeled pitching staff is back on the beam.

The Cinderella National league champions of 1951 looked anything but king pins during the early stages of exhibition play as they dropped four out of five games.

Durocher was fit to be tied but his ace in the hole, Sal (the Barber) Maglie, came to the rescue Thursday with a near scoreless inning performance in a 6-0 triumph.

The little leader's other ace, Larry Jansen, and relief artist George Spencer brought Durocher further joy yesterday when they teamed up to pitch the Giants to a 5-1 victory over the St. Louis Browns.

Jansen blanked the "new Browns" on three hits in five innings. Spencer thrice hit Brownies in order until the ninth when they clipped him for three hits and their lone run.

Scoreless For Eighteen

Until the ninth Giants pitchers had held the opposition scoreless for 18 straight innings and hadn't yielded a walk in two games.

The Giants collected only seven hits off lefty Bob Cain, a former farm hand, and Duane Pillette but one was a three-run homer by arm-bowling Willie Mays in the fourth inning.

Elsewhere, action was limited because of rain. In the only other games played, the Chicago Cubs crushed the Los Angeles farm club, 12-7, at Fullerton, Calif.; the Detroit Tigers downed the Boston Red Sox, 7-5, at Sarasota, Fla.; the New York Yankees nipped the Brooklyn Dodgers in a night game at Miami, Fla., 6-5; San Diego defeated the Chicago White Sox "B" team, 3-1, in a night game at San Diego and the St. Louis Cardinals played the Washington Senators to a 6-6 tie at St. Petersburg, Fla., in a game that was halted after 5½ innings because of rain.

Mizzell Hit Hard

Home runs by Ron Northey, Leon Brinkopf, Bob Ramazotti and Roy Smalley paced the Cubs to victory over Los Angeles. The Cubs wrapped it up in the eighth with five runs, three on Ramazotti's four-bagger.

Wilmer (Vinagar Bend) Mizell, the Cards' highly touted rookie left-hander, was hit hard by Washington. The Senators touched Mizell for five runs in the first inning on four walks, a double by Irv Noren and triple by Sam Mele. The Cards enjoyed a big inning at the expense of Glen Elliott in the fourth when they counted four times.

The Red Sox youngsters went down to their sixth straight defeat in bowing to Detroit. Boston collected 13 singles but the Tigers smacked out five doubles and seven one-baggers to win.

New York's 6-5 squeaker over Brooklyn was the Yanks' fifth straight triumph. The Yanks pulled it out with two runs in the eighth inning.

Baseball Training Camp Briefs

Miami, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Pitchers

Preacher Roe, Ralph Branca and Carl Erskine have been "demoted" to the Brooklyn Dodgers' minor league training camp at Vero Beach.

"I know what these fellows can do," Manager Chuck Dressen said today. "I don't have to watch them pitch. It's more important that they get work. So each of them will go six innings against Montreal or St. Paul on the days that the rest of the squad is playing exhibitions."

Phoenix, Ariz., March 15 (AP)—Manager Leo Durocher of the New York Giants plans to give negro infielder Hank Thompson another chance at second base.

Thompson, who has played third base and the outfield in recent years, had a whirl at second in 1949 without much success.

Miami, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Southwest Ed Lopat of the New York Yankees believes that "you have to be really lucky to win 20 games."

"My luck lay in the fact that I never missed a turn. No sore arm bothered me last year, as happened in other years when I won 17 or 18 games."

Lopat captured 21 games last year.

Sarasota, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Manager Lou Boudreau plans to use most of his regulars against the intra-city rival Boston Braves here today in an effort to snap a six-game losing string of exhibition contests.

Boudreau has been using plenty of youngsters so far to get a line on them in game action, but in this first clash of the annual city series, he's out to draw first blood.

Billy Goodman, who had been a nine-day holdout, will make his first start, playing second base. Vern Stephens will be at third with Jim Piersall at shortstop, Walt Dropo at first, and Randy Gumpert and Harry Taylor pitching.

Phoenix, Ariz., March 15 (AP)—Manager Rogers Hornsby has called on Ned Garver to try to make up for the St. Louis Browns' 6-1 loss to the New York giants yesterday. Garver will start the second of the three-game series today.

The Browns' loss yesterday was the second in five exhibition games this season.

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 15

—Jimmy Dykes says it's mere coincidence that the Philadelphia Athletics happen to have three of their best pitchers primed to face their intracity rivals Sunday at the Phillies' camp in Clearwater, Fla.

Dykes has named Carl Scheib, Bobby Shantz and Bob Hooper to take three-inning turns against the Phillies.

"And you can tell (Phil's manager) Eddie Sawyer I haven't been saving them. They're due for work in our next exhibition," Dykes said.

San Francisco, Calif., March 15 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates hoped for a break in the weather today to give them a chance to play an exhibition game with Oakland of the Pacific Coast league.

Meanwhile, top officials said they have been talking of several possible trades. It was indicated, however, that any deal will not be forthcoming for at least 10 days or two weeks to give Manager Bill Meyer a chance to see how some of his rookies stack up against major league players.

Branch Rickey, BUC general manager, said he wants to keep several young pitchers with the club but that this will depend on their performance in the spring tests.

LASALLE COACH WORRIED ABOUT DAYTON WEIGHT

By WILL GRIMSLEY

New York, March 15 (AP)—Two rank outsiders, LaSalle (23-5) and Dayton (27-3), clash tonight for the National Invitation Basketball championship, and LaSalle's veteran Coach Ken Loeffler says it's not the Flyers' height that's worrying him—"It's their breadth."

"We've played other tall teams this year, Western Kentucky, for instance, and done all right," Loeffler, a one-time pro tutor, said. "But we've never met anybody that's both as tall and as strong as these boys."

"Just look at the shoulders on fellows like Don Meineke, Chuck Grigsby and that big Leland Norris. They take up a lot of room under the basket."

Loeffler says the game should be rated a tossup but he adds: "I think we can win it." Dayton's Coach Tom Blackburn won't predict but promises a better showing than in last year's finals when the Flyers were upended by Brigham Young, 64-43.

Explorers Favored

LaSalle's "forgotten men" have caught the fancy of the experts and the Philadelphia team will enter the game a slight favorite although Dayton is more seasoned and boasts a 20-game winning streak.

The final is scheduled to begin at 9:30 p.m. (EST) at Madison Square Garden, following a consolation game between Duquesne and St. Bonaventure at 7:45 p.m. The top-seeded Ducks were beaten by LaSalle and the Bonnies, third-seeded, were ousted by Dayton in the semi-finals.

LaSalle has waded through the more impressive end of the bracket in beating Seton Hall, St. John's and Duquesne. Dayton eliminated New York University, St. Louis and St. Bonaventure.

"Dayton reminds me of a Big Ten type of team—big and strong," Loeffler said. "We expect a lot of trouble from Meineke."

Meineke, Dayton's six-foot-seven, 205-pound pivotman, is the tournament's leading scorer with 71 points. He is deadly with a pivot shot. Grigsby is six-five and weighs 195. The other forward, John Horan, is six-eight while the guards, Leland Norris and Pete Boyle, aren't too tall but are rugged. Norris is a fast six-one 220-pounder. Boyle is six-three and weighs 190. All are seniors except Horan, a freshman.

LaSalle has a younger team with two freshmen and one sophomore in the starting lineup and that, says Coach Loeffler, is the reason the Explorers probably were overlooked.

General

New Haven, Conn.—Yale's Johnny

Marshall from Australia won the 220-yard freestyle event, the second leg in his quest for a "triple" in the Eastern Intercollegiate Swimming league's invitation meet. He previously won the 1,500-yard freestyle.

San Francisco—Defending champion Willie Hoppe remained unbeaten in the world three-cushion billiard tournament, beating the Japanese woman star, Miss Masako Matsura, 50-31, in 36 innings.

Cleveland—Fred Wilt, New York, won the mile run at the Knights of Columbus indoor track meet in 4:10.8, while Don Laz and Rev. Bob Richards each pole-vaulted 15 feet, ½ inches.

Basketball

handed Southwest Texas its first defeat of the season 70-67 in a double-overtime battle and Murray (Ky.) State topped Portland (Ore.) university, 58-57, in the semi-finals of the NAIB tourney.

Golf

Buffalo Host To Women's Field Meet

Buffalo, N. Y., March 15 (AP)—At least four new national AAU titlists will be crowned tonight in the 1952 United States women's indoor track and field championships.

Wide open events of the meet, which may indicate America's strength in women's events for this summer's Olympic games, include the 50 and 100-yard dashes, the eight-pound shot put and the basketball distance throw. Defending champions will be on hand as favorites in the other seven events.

The championship meet is the co-feature of Buffalo's annual 174th armory games.

Sharing the spotlight is a card of four invitation events for men, featuring Fred Wilt in the invitation mile and Harrison Dillard, the national hurdles king, in the invitation 70-yard high hurdles.

Farrell Rated Favorite For PIAA Honors

By BEN FRENCH

Harrisburg, March 15 (AP)—Farrell's Steelers stood out today as the team to beat for the 1952 PIAA Class A basketball championship.

The Mercer county quintet, as white hot as the steel in their hometown blast furnaces, definitely established themselves as the top contender last night when they smashed the 23-game winning streak of Washington, 52-43. Julius McCoy led the way with 29 points.

The victory gave the Steelers the District 7 (WPIAL) title and left them only two games away from retaining their Western Class A title. They draw a bye in Tuesday night's preliminary inter-district game and meet either Westmont or Somerset's Pitt fieldhouse.

The eastern favorite will probably come out of tonight's Catsasauqua-Bethlehem battle for the District II championship.

Bethlehem, winner of the East Penn conference with a 21-3 record, will pit its well-trained defense against Catsasauqua's fast break.

Catsasauqua won the Lehigh Valley league title and boasts a similar 21-3 record as well as a 15-game winning streak.

Win District Titles

Swoyersville, Coatesville, Reading and Westmont also nailed down Class A district titles last night.

Swoyersville stamped itself as the "darkhorse" entry as the Sailors downed Old Forge, 48-38, at Scranton to win their third straight District 2 Class A title. Joe Holup, the Sailors' 6-5 center, led the scoring with 25 points.

The Sailors meet Williamsport next Tuesday night in the preliminary inter-district game. Williamsport won the District 4 title last Tuesday from Danville, 62-47.

Coatesville won its 12th straight game at Philadelphia last night to win the District 1 title after staving off a Chester rally, 55-51. The Raiders, champions of the Ches-Mont league, draw the winner of the Williamsport-Swoyersville game next Saturday.

Westmont moved into the inter-district round against Somerset's District 5 champions by downing Hollidaysburg, 58-45, at Altoona for the District 6 crown.

STATE MATMEN LEAD TOURNEY

Bethlehem, Pa., March 15 (AP)—

Six Penn State matmen reached the semi-final round today at the Nittany Lions, defending champion, dominated competition in the 48th Annual Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling association championships.

More than that Penn State led in point scoring, having registered seven falls in the first bouts waged before capacity crowds in Lehigh university's Grace Hall.

Columbia and Syracuse each qualified four men in the semi-finals to trail Penn State, while Rutgers and Army were tied with three qualifiers. Today's semi-final action gets underway at 2 p.m.

Lehigh, Others Out

The host Lehigh team, which has won 13 previous titles, is out of contention having moved only two of its eight-man team into the next-to-last round. Yale and Princeton also have two contestants while Brown, Cornell, Franklin and Marshall, Harvard, Navy, and Virginia each have one.

PAUL RICHARDS BELIEVES SOX CAN WIN FLAG

By GAYLE TALBOT

Pasadena, March 15 (AP)—Outside of being pestered by Latin ball players who lost their train tickets or had passport trouble or for any one of six other reasons failed to report to training camp on time, Paul Richards appears to be a moderately happy man as he begins his second season at the helm of the Chicago White Sox.

The thin man never looks entirely happy, and he probably doesn't want his players to, either. Baseball to Paul is an extremely serious 24-hour-a-day business, and he works at it. He drives his men with a sort of studied brutality in the spring, harder than any other manager except, possibly, Rogers Hornsby, though fellows who played with him at Detroit and elsewhere declare he was the laziest catcher who ever drew on a uniform. This could be a canard.

In his first try as a big league pilot, Richards yanked the Sox up by the scruff of the neck and deposited them in fourth place in the American league. This was one of the year's outstanding feats, even if Cleveland did deserve an assist for making the mercurial Minnie Minoos available early in the race. There was a thrilling stretch of 41 days while the Sox were in first place.

This time the man from Waxahatchie thinks he has a chance to take it all. A year ago when he talked that way he drew some tolerant smiles here and there. He refused to discuss rival clubs then, and he still does. If you wish to talk to Richards, you talk about the White Sox. But there aren't any smiles this spring. The man has proved he is loaded.

Good As Other Teams

"This could be our year," he says. "I can't see where any club in the league is superior to the White Sox. All we need is comparable performances from our best men of last year, plus help from several players acquired during the off season."

Paul says his club is going to run again—go for that extra base every time there is the remotest chance of success. This brand of game took the league somewhat by surprise last season and was instrumental in the team's lengthy tenure at the top. The Sox pilot scoffs at a suggestion that Nelson Fox, his great little second baseman who walloped the ball for 313 last year, was playing over his head. The boy is only 24, he points out—just finding himself.

Scouts who watched Hector Rodriguez, a Cuban dish, perform for Montreal last year, say the Sox have landed the finest rookie coming into the league this spring. He's a third baseman, and they say he can do a little of everything better than most. Richards has seen little of him up to this point, because he reported late, naturally.

TEN YEARS AGO

Huge Structure Is Levelled By $100,000 Blaze: Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the local plant of the Central Chemical Corporation of Pennsylvania with all its machinery, hundreds of tons of fertilizers, feeds, insecticides and seeds, east of town.

Discovered Saturday morning shortly after 6:30 o'clock, the flames raced through the big two- and three-story frame building and reduced it to blazing ruins in an hour.

Samuel G. Spangler and J. Price Oyler, managers, estimated the probable loss at from $75,000 to $100,000 and upward.

Gettysburg firemen responded with all their equipment. Later firemen arrived from New Oxford and Biglerville.

Efforts will be made to rebuild the plants as soon as possible.

Gardner-Cline: Miss Bertha E. Cline, daughter of Edward Cline, Gardner R. D., became the bride of Harry E. Gardner, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Gardner, Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Centennial Memorial church, United Brethren in Christ, of Frederick. The single ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. H. Schmitt.

Soldier Weds: The marriage of Miss Dorothy L. Lehmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Lehmer, Dillsburg, and Private Ralph B. Gardner, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Gardner, took place Saturday evening, March 7, in St. Mary's Lutheran church, Silver Run, Maryland. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Saltzger.

Miss Albert Gets State Position: Miss Edna Albert, near York Springs, has appointed an assistant in the department of archives at Harrisburg, working under the chief archivist, Col. Henry W. Shoemaker. Miss Albert, who is an author in her own right, started work at Harrisburg this week. A novelist, she includes among her works "The Little Pilgrim of Penn's Woods."

Faculty Honors Doctor Hanson On Anniversary: Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson was guest of honor at a surprise dinner tendered him Thursday evening in Huber Hall, upon the occasion of his sixtieth birthday anniversary. Mrs. Hanson and their three sons and a grandson were also guests.

One hundred and twenty-five members of the faculty staff, their wives, board members and their wives were present.

Dean W. E. Tilberg was toastmaster.

Dr. Hanson was presented with a large silver plate, suitably engraved. Dr. Thomas C. Cline made the presentation.

Dr. and Mrs. Hanson, assisted by their grandson, Henry, cut the huge birthday cake.

Couple Weds Here Thursday: Miss Anna Eliza Bushnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Bushnell, of Harrisburg, and sister of Mrs. F. C. Sheely, Gettysburg, and Lieutenant Gates B. Stern, son of Mr. and Mrs. Le. Stern, of Parkersburg, West Virginia, were married Thursday evening at seven o'clock at the home of Judge and Mrs. W. C. Sheely. The wedding ceremony was performed by Judge Sheely.

Rotarians To See "Circus Acts":

Members of the Girls' Athletic association at Gettysburg high school will present several "acts" at the Monday evening meeting of the local Rotary club in the Y.W.C.A. building.

The acts were among those presented recently during an assembly program at the high school. The students are under the direction of Mrs. Frederick Tilberg.

Those who will take part are: Ring master, Ruth Stover; pianist, Mary Clare Myers; drum major, Betty Starry; acrobatic dancer, Kathleen McGlaughlin, and boxing drill, Phyllis McCreaf. Lois Klinefelter, Mary Lou Martin, Betty Rebert and Patty Minter.

SEEDS AND THEIR PLANTERS

If you would get a glimpse of the wonder and mystery of the Creator, take a small seed, place it in your hand—and look at it. How insignificant it looks, but what possibilities it contains in its small heart.

Plant that seed and it may become a colorful fragrant flower, a shrub of beautiful form, or a great tree. A multitude of these seeds may become a field of grain to nourish the bodies of millions of people. Seeds are a farmer's delight. Behind them he plants his hopes and his dreams of security.

Many years ago, in the early history of America, a man went, often barefoot, through the undeveloped Middle West and planted seeds wherever he went. So famous did he become that they called him "Johnny Appleseed," for he went about planting apple seeds. So great was he considered as a benefactor that when he died the Congress of the United States paused to pay him tribute.

Soon now in the early Springtime there will be millions of people planting seeds in fields and gardens. You have to have faith to perform this task, for in its last analysis the planting of seeds performs a miracle! As the poet has written, "only God can make a tree." Seeds are Nature's thoughts to be converted into deeds.

How very wonderful, but how few of us think about it all. We just go to the market, buy our seeds, plant them, and wait results. God does the rest, but He expects us to put these seeds in good soil, and keep them watered and nourished. In most cases He furnishes the water and the sunshine, which are essential for the right results.

Seeds never change their characteristics, no matter where planted anywhere in the world, but the soil conditions must be similar. And a little love, used as mixture, is never out of the way, especially after the seed sprouts, reaches the air and sunlight, and looks around to spy its friends!

I am reminded of the Princeton University professor who used to take off his hat before he performed an experiment, saying: "I am about to ask God a question!" God always gives an answer to the planter of seeds.

OLD MAN WINTER
Old Man Winter's back is aching; Signs are plain it's almost breaking.

Whimpering now instead of chuckles.

There are swellings on his knuckles;

Checks are furrowed; eyes are baggy;

Footsteps just a little draggy, But with pitiful endeavor

Tries to prove he's young as ever.

Winter at the crabby age is, Now and then he storms and rages,

Pained by all old folks are hurt with,

Still Miss Spring he stays to flirt with,

Fancying that she will take him, Though she does her best to shake him,

Grumpy, grouchy, almost ghoulish,

Old Man Winter's getting foolish.

Let him linger! Loiter let him! Nothing will his nonsense get him.

From her door Miss Spring will shoo him.

She will grant no favors to him. To his feeble style of wooing

She will answer: "Nothing doing!" Soon his waning strength will play out.

Old Man Winter's on his way out.

Unfortunately too much wild life these days is right on the broad highway.

Progress In Low Gear

It isn't generally appreciated in motordom but one reason why progress in design is slow is because so often the exclusive feature of one car, while highly desirable in itself, is ruined because of the inappropriate attention it receives. That is one reason engineers discarded a dash-board control for power brakes. Few knew where to look for trouble if the brakes became troublesome and the control valve needed special handling. The aluminum cylinder head has always been handicapped by carelessness of owners in flushing the cooling system, soda cleaners not being suitable for aluminum. Every new feature requires special consideration if it is to live and become a general part of the car's progress. It isn't so many years ago that one company covered the car's springs, not to provide the special factory greased-for-life feature which the buyer assumed, but to keep him from spraying the springs with oil!

Your Turn For Safety
If your car is equipped with those metal whisks which serve as warnings of nearness to the curb when parking be sure to remind the man who put the car on a lift for greasing. He could easily lose an eye working around a car so equipped. Some service station men have learned to watch out for this danger and make it a point to slip a large cork over the ends of the protruding wires. These serve as warnings, and are a protection as well.

Simple But Effective
If I were to be asked for several simple rules to prevent trouble I would have no hesitancy in putting two of them well to the fore. These would be to keep the gas tank filled at all times and to use rust inhibitor in the cooling system. A full tank doesn't sweat, thus preventing a lot of trouble from frozen lines, water in the gas and corrosion of carburetor parts. I would also change oil every thousand miles and every 500 in winter if the car is used only for round-town driving. The oil may stay clean but it becomes diluted with water, gasoline and acids. Well up on the list would be avoidance of starting, stopping, shifting or handling any control abruptly. I would always put the car away in the garage when driving back to the house in the afternoon or early evening. That avoids a cold start and a wasteful 50-foot drive into the garage later if the car doesn't need to be used again that night.

Mechanic Joe Speaking
"In the spring of the year cars used to get caught in the ruts, but don't assume that because of modern highways there are no more handicaps for cars. Many automobiles these days are suffering because of too much of the same kind of treatment. "Chief modern rut is confining the car's travel to the city. Many an engine seldom gets warmed up to the point of efficiency. Too many cars are handicapped by the rut of travel over the same kind of topography day after day. Hills can be an advantage in getting the engine warmed up to the point where crankcase contaminants are driven off, and the car that daily runs up and down hill will benefit by a good run over a fairly level highway. I am not a mind reader but often I can tell just about what kind of trouble an owner will run across just by knowing how he uses his car, and where."

Winter Driving Variations
It is strange how little consideration is given the difference in street and road conditions following snow and freezing rain. Some of this varies widely in slipperiness. The worst traction seems to be on ice over which a little rain has fallen. Wet snow is also treacherous. Ice affords poor traction when it is smooth, but if on top of badly roughed up snow the tires do surprisingly well for starting as well as stopping. Deep snow, especially if dry, makes relatively safe going. It is the occasional safe type of winter condition which so often misleads a driver into assuming that all of his driving in winter will be easy.

Just Inviting Trouble
Many a motorist who has had to discard a battery because of excessive sulphation of its plates hasn't taken time to learn what causes this. There are, of course, various conditions that aggravate sulphation, and we need not get into a technical discussion at this point, but let's just consider the fact that the chief cause of this damaging effect on the battery is excessive discharging. Often slow cranking will hint of battery weakness but the owner keeps procrastinating. By the time he gets round to a charge, or the battery gives out, he has invited damage which could have been spared.

They are certainly making full use of the cigarette lighter receptacle these days. You have probably seen some of the trouble lights that plug into it, and the special lighter with an illuminated light but, in addition, there is the lighter that holds a cigarette and gives it a puff or two while lighting. Another lighter has a switch so that you have an extra driving compartment light for reading maps.

What's The Horsepower?
There is a good deal of misunderstanding regarding horsepower ratings of car engines, and it doesn't pay to take some of the claims too seriously. The engine speed at which peak horsepower is attained has much to do with what you or I will get from a motor when operating it at normal road speeds. Then there comes into the picture at much lower engine speeds. This is the twisting force on the engine crankshaft which gives the car the pleasant sensation of capability. Just for the record the true horsepower of a gas engine depends on the number of cylinders, the area of the piston heads, the mean effective pressure (the average number of pounds per square inch exerted during the power strokes) and the revolutions per minute. The old rating for taxation purposes (horsepower equals the bore squared times the number of cylinders, divided by 2.5) is no real measure of power.

You Never Can Tell
People who like to press the horn button, and who feel a great sense of mastery when proclaiming their arrival, should remember that honking is hardly worth the bother in traffic. In congested areas it is always difficult to tell whether someone is honking for your special benefit, there being so much confusion and so many other noises. Even if the horn booms above the traffic din the driver for whom it is intended generally makes a split second decision to the effect it isn't intended for him. I was driving casually, when the man behind kept honking for us to get going. "It must be embarrassing to have trouble with the horn button in traffic like this."

Q. I am not a speed artist but I know from climbing hills that there is too low a ceiling on the engine's power and speed. This is also noticeable in second gear. The fuel pump has been replaced without any improvement.

A. You might check to see if the accelerator pedal opens the throttle wide.

Q. Will pitted breaker points cause overheating? Wm. L. L.

A. Yes, but usually in combination with some other handicap. Even a weak breaker spring will help bring on motor fever. Overheating often is due to several conditions which handicap the motor simultaneously.

Q. The engine of my car has been acting oddly of late. It starts up well enough but as soon as I try to get going it kicks up a fuss and then stalls. When I re-crank there is a lot of black smoke at the exhaust. Soon it is running again and this time there usually is no trouble getting under way. C. C. McB.

A. There have been several similar complaints lately. I think this is an indication of trouble with the automatic choke. The engine fails to respond and stalls because it is getting a much too rich mixture.

Q. In spite of another brake shoe adjustment and a cleaning of the drums the brakes on my car still tend to squeal especially when I am just slowly coming to a halt. Would you recommend wrapping the drums with coil springs to help check vibration. K. L. N.

A. The coil spring idea is all right, but it seems to me that you might get complete freedom from this trouble by learning to use the brakes a little more vigorously, at least until they recover from this present spell of noise making. You will find that in trying to avoid noise you may be making matters worse by not allowing the brakes shoes to make full contact with their drums. I am assuming that the brake lining on this job is the correct type.

Q. How much variation in compression reading can there be without the engine beginning to idle poorly and give other evidences of needing attention? H. V. C.

A. The limit is around 10 pounds.

Q. There is a good deal of vibration in the clutch of my car. I do not mean a chattering. What would cause this? L. L. V.

A. There are several reasons for this condition. Simplest is misalignment between engine, clutch and transmission. The clutch assembly may not be balanced. This is likely to be the case if the clutch was taken down for servicing. You may find that the clutch shaft is bent, or that the clutch plate doesn't make proper engagement with the flywheel. Don't forget the effect of worn universal joints on the clutch.

Deducts Tax Due To War Payments

Whittier, Calif., March 15 (AP) — A Quaker pacifist couple have mailed their income tax returns to the Bureau of Internal Revenue, minus 72.6 per cent of the tax due, which they figure is the amount the government would spend on war.

Francis Behn Riggs, 70, retired boys' school headmaster, and his wife, Valerie, 67, said they expect the bureau to seize the missing funds from their savings accounts, "as it has been doing since 1944."

But Mrs. Riggs added, "There is a difference between handing the government our income tax for the military and the government taking it from us."

Along with the returns, Mrs. Riggs sent a note saying: "My conscience tells me that the killing of human beings is a criminal act, and that paying for that killing is likewise criminal. This conviction is based on religious belief."

SEES PLASTIC BRIDGES SOON

Philadelphia, March 15 (AP) — Imagine a time when big bridges will be built partly of plastic. When water will flow to millions of consumers through plastic pipes. When auto body parts—plastic, too—will be molded in one piece at the rate of one a minute. And television consoles are similarly turned out in a single piece.

Fantasy?

Far from it, says an expert of more than 20 years.

Carleton Ellis, Jr., of Libby-Owens-Ford Glass company, Toledo, Ohio, predicted today a future for plastics "undoubtedly beyond our liveliest imaginations."

Valuable Exhibits

Ellis is one of the kinglypins at the national plastic exposition here this week. The show, sponsored by the Society of the Plastics Industry, includes exhibits by 137 firms. These exhibits, Ellis said, are valued at $2,500,000. Closed to the public, the exposition is expected to attract, all told, more than 16,000 executives, engineers and management specialists to vast Convention Hall.

"Talk about plastics of tomorrow, or even those of today," Ellis observed, "and a lot of people figure you're romancing. It's a young industry, growing enormously, becoming more and more important to the nation's economic life. The length to which it can be developed are more limited than the ingenuity of man."

What that ingenuity has contrived so far is pretty impressive to most people.

The plastic auto body, for example, already is here—a shiny, sleek job which exhibitors say is strong and durable.

Rice paper, so named because it is mistakenly supposed to be made from rice, is actually made from the pith of a small tree.

East Berlin

East Berlin—Mr. and Mrs. W. Lewis Kroft and children, Joyce, Barbara and Billy, entertained Saturday evening at a family party for Mr. Kroft's sister-in-law, Mrs. Carl Kroft, who marked her birthday. Several members of the Elmer Kroft family, near Dover, parents of the host and formerly of East Berlin, were present.

A. M. Jacobs, Altoona, formerly of here arrived from St. Petersburg, Fla., where he had been spending the winter, to attend funeral services for his sister, Mrs. Leah Jacobs Phillips. Others coming from a distance to attend Mrs. Phillips' funeral were a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Anna Mason Phillips, widow of Russell Phillips, with her sons, Benjamin and Russell, Jr., Pocomoke City, Md.; the Paul Phillips family, Elizabethtown; and the Clair Phillips family, Harrisburg.

Women of paradise Catholic church wishing to attend the St. Patrick's Day banquet given by the parish in recognition of the women's services to church projects, have been asked to give their names to Mrs. Frank Schuham, Abbotstown R. 1, or Mrs. William G. Ream, Spring Grove R. 3, who are in charge of reservations. Each woman attending is asked to bring an inexpensive gift for the exchange that will be a feature of the entertainment.

Members of Trinity Lutheran church are arranging to conduct a concert of sacred music at the church before the close of Lent, featuring a choir from the AME Zion church, Gettysburg.

Slight improvement is reported in the condition of Mrs. Mary Stambaugh, who has been very ill at her home.

The council of Trinity Lutheran church has decided to erect an extension to the church property for the use of the Sunday school. Ground-breaking ceremonies will be on Sunday, March 23, with the Rev. I. M. Lau as guest minister. A portion of the expense of this building is expected to be met by contributions of each church member to a self-denial mile box during the Lenten season. Each person is asked to deny himself some small luxury each day of Lent and place the cost thereof into the box which will be turned in at the Easter time.

Mrs. Daisy Resser is able to attend to some of her housework after an illness of several weeks during part of which her condition was quite serious.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Smith, Harrisburg, were entertained early this week by her cousin, Mrs. Augustine J. Tierney.

Miss Nettie E. Myers, R. 2, who was seriously ill with a throat infection, is slowly improving. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carman Myers, have also been quite ill.

AWARDS GIVEN
SCOUTERS AT BIRTHDAY FETE

Each of the Girl Scout troops of the community presented a portion of the program at the seventh annual Girl Scout birthday party held on Thursday evening in the social hall of Redeemer's Reformed church. Following the program the troop leaders gave the awards they had earned during the past year, including a star for all those who were scouts for a year, five-year pins to those who had been in scouting for that period, and individual merit badge awards.

Mrs. Carl H. Baumgardner, a member of the troop committee, served as chairman for the program which was attended by approximately 200 Girl Scouts, troop committee members, leaders, parents and friends. Special guests were Mrs. Raymond Shelly, president of the Adams County Girl Scout Council, and Mrs. M. H. Nichols, secretary of the county group, both of Gettysburg. Mrs. Shelly spoke briefly, bringing greetings from the county and giving a short history on the organization of Girl Scouts and their founder, Juliette Low. The opening ceremonies following the group singing of "America, The Beautiful" were in charge of Troops No. 34 and 29. Flag bearers were Colleen Angstead and Judith Breighner and the color guard was Geraldine Roberts and Roberta Rose. Mrs. Hildah Arter, leader of Troop 34, presented awards to the members of the troop as follows: Janice Joyce and Judith Breighner, Shirley Chronister, Sally Forry, Julie Ann Kammerer, Mary Gail Gouker, Janet Koonitz, Judy Long, Janet Sell, Janet Ripka, Susan Strevig, Betty Wallick, and Patricia Yingling.

St. Patrick's Day

O'Brien, O'Connell, O'Regan, Oh, My!

The faith in Ireland. The shamrock with its three leaves is still a symbol of the Trinity, and, to most of the world, a symbol of Ireland. The saint lived to be a very old man. He died March 17 in the year 493 at the age of 106 at Saul, Ireland. This was the first St. Patrick's Day—1,459 years ago!

Bits Of Legend

Through the years, bits of legend have been woven about old Erin and tall yarns have been passed down from century to century so that it is difficult to separate fiction from fact. But one thing is certain—the faith of its people has been strong enough to resist centuries. Most of the mysticism typical of this race is directly traced to the pagan rites and beliefs of the ancient Druids. The Celtic religion taught transmigration and tree-worship. Our present-day sentimental attachment to mistletoe is a hangover from the Celtic belief that the flower had magic powers.

Blarney Stone

Then there is the story of Blarney Castle, near the village of Cork, which stands 120 feet high. It is famous for its magic stone on the castle's outer wall. The visitor must bend backward and downward a foot below the floor level in order to kiss the Blarney stone and after kissing it, faith, you'll be so sweet with the blarney that no one will believe you anymore!

Those Banshees

Maybe you don't believe in banshees, but people did, a long time ago in Ireland. They say, even today, on a moonlit night . . . but that's another story. Traditionally, a banshee is a tall woman, dressed in long black robes, who appears to certain families to warn them of the approaching death of a member of their family by wailing or singing in a mournful voice. She can be seen usually seated in a lonely bog on a moonlit night, combing her long black hair. But unless you are a member of one of the families whose names begin with Mac or O, the banshees won't bother you. Speaking of titles, the O's and the Macs are the most Irish of the Irish having descended in a straight line from the Kings of Ireland. We don't have banshees in

VOTING PUBLIC
WAITS WORD ON
TRUMAN'S PLANS

(By The Associated Press)
The nation expectantly awaited President Truman's off-the-cuff speech today for a possible hint to his feelings about his upset by Sen. Estes Kefauver in last Tuesday's New Hampshire primary.

The President has remained mum since the lanky Tennesseean won the popularity poll and all eight New Hampshire convention delegate votes in the two-way Democratic race.

Truman has not said whether he will seek re-election and the general belief was that he would not break his silence until later.

He speaks in New York (2:30 p.m. EST) before 3,000 high school editors attending a convention of the Columbia Scholastic Press association. The subject: "Citizenship."

Kefauver Accepts Dare
Elsewhere in the presidential battle:

Sen. Kefauver—
He accepted a dare of Gov. Fuller Warren to enter Florida's Democratic presidential preference primary. The Florida governor has been smarting under criticism of him and some of his friends by Kefauver's Senate Crime Investigating committee.

Sen. Robert A. Taft—
Taft supporters retained control of Louisiana's Republican state central committee over Eisenhower backers in a Baton Rouge meeting. Taft forces predicted he would get "a right good majority" of the 13 national GOP convention delegates to be chosen in nine North Carolina Republican district conventions over the week-end; said signed Taft pledges would be received from 68 candidates for the Illinois GOP delegation; and that there was "little question" he would get all of New Mexico's 14 convention delegates.

Taft campaigned through Arizona to wind up his western tour. Hoffman to See Ike Gettysburg, so don't start looking around for one tonight. Banshees look down 'their noses at Americans in general.

Fightin' Irish

And just to prove that an Irishman can handle a gun as well as a shillelagh, the army of the American Revolution was composed chiefly of Irish soldiers, thirteen hundred years after St. Patrick had set foot on Irish soil. The Irish, who have fought so long for national independence, have become popularly known as "the Fighting Irish."

Emerald Valleys

Today, Ireland is considered one of the beauty spots of the world for its mirrored lakes . . . thatched-roofed cottages surrounded by rose-filled gardens . . . green mountains dipping down into emerald valleys . . . mile-long bridges . . . tall light-houses . . . historic castles . . . rocky coastline . . . bays filled with fishermen and their boats . . . twilights that linger until ten in the evening.

A Bit O' Green

Begorra, did ye know that Gettysburg, itself, is wearin' a bit o' the green in honor of the Saint himself? Shure and it's green napkins and emerald tinted candles they're after usin' at every birthday party in the town lately. And, shades of St. Patrick, would ye believe it, they're after servin' Shamrock sundaes in a local sweet shop. Faith, and ye can take Rosie O'Grady herself to the place for a treat tonight.

I'm a-thinkin' 'twill be a gay day and a-venin' and don't forget to be after wearin' a bit o' the green yourself! . . . MLC plan administrator and now president of the Ford foundation, left for Paris to "talk politics" with Eisenhower. Hoffman is advisor to a "Citizens for Eisenhower" committee.

Sen. McMahon, Connecticut Democrat, said he expects approval Monday, by the Senate Foreign Relations committee, of his motion inviting Eisenhower to come home and testify on the new foreign aid bill. Several other committeemen, including Eisenhower's campaign manager, Sen. Lodge of Massachusetts, said they would oppose the motion.

Gov. Earl C. Warren—

The California chief executive, campaigning in Wisconsin, said he did not believe "that we should start a war so that Chiang Kai-Shek can conquer China—no other country would support that war but the United States."

Harold E. Stassen—
He told voters in Wisconsin he would take no stand in a fight to defeat Sen. McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican.

DECORATING TO BE CLUB THEME

"Interior Decorating" will be discussed at the March meeting of the Woman's Community Club of Littlestown and vicinity on Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock, immediately following the community Lenten services, in the POS of A hall, East King street. Stanley Rittese, York, will be the guest speaker. The program committee is composed of Mrs. Joseph R. Riden, chairman, Mrs. Clayton L. Evans, Mrs. John W. LeGore, Mrs. William H. Marshman, Mrs. John Kindig, Mrs. Gilbert Royston and Mrs. Vernon Snyder. Those comprising the hostess committee are Mrs. Paul R. Snyder, chairman, Mrs. Charles E. Hely, Miss Evelyn Hornberger, Mrs. Curvin Hollinger, Mrs. Edgar Orendorff, Mrs. Willis Snyder and Mrs. Mabel Wilkins. A special meeting of the board will be held on Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the president, Mrs. Marvin F. Breighner, Prince street.

Mrs. George DeHoff, Miss Malva Dutta and Miss Louise Dutta comprise the entertainment and refreshment committee for the March meeting of the Hustler's Sunday school class of Redeemer's Reformed church on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the social hall.

Move Meeting Up
The March meeting of the Abigail Kammerer Missionary society to St. Paul's Lutheran church will be held on Monday evening instead of Tuesday evening due to the meeting of the local PTA that night. The society will meet at the home of Mrs. Crane Manthey, 591 West Walnut street, Hanover. Mrs. Manthey, will also be the leader for the topic discussion.

Littlestown Aerie No. 2226, Fraternal Order of Eagles will sponsor a dance this evening from 9:30 to 12:30 o'clock in the grill room of the Eagles home, West King street. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Burr, Germany township, Littlestown B. 1, have sold their farm to Mr. and Mrs. Alec J. Anderson of Delta. The sale was made through Stanley R. Sell, local real estate agent.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston L. Myers and daughter, Ruby and Patricia, M street, left today for a four weeks' motor trip through the western states and California. The Myers will visit for some time with Mr. Myers' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Hull, in Oakland, Calif., and will be accompanied home by Mr. and Mrs. Hull, formerly of Littlestown. Enroute home, the group will do extensive sightseeing.

Missionary Group Meets

Mrs. Samuel Renner, M street, was hostess to the members of the Alta Hummer Missionary society of St. John's Lutheran church for the monthly meeting on Thursday evening. The order of the meeting was as follows: Hymn, "I Love To Tell the Story," the group; Scripture, Psalm 67 read by Mrs. William C. Karns; prayer offered by Mrs. Williams J. Libby; group hymn, "From Greenland's Icy Mountains"; introduction of the topic, "Woman's Work in India," by Mrs. Sylvester Rickrode, leader for the evening; readings pertaining to the topic given by Mrs. Wilbur Hollenshead, Mrs. Samuel Renner, Mrs. Preston L. Myers, Mrs. Paul Bowers, Mrs. Evelyn Asper, Mrs. William Lippy, Mrs. George Trump, Mrs. Raymond Reinaman and Mrs. Harry O. Harner; reading, "Facts on India," Mrs. Henry Barnes; dialogue, "Fatima's Pilgrimage," Mrs. Dale W. Stary and Mrs. Edgar A. Wolfe; magazine quiz, and the missionary benediction repeated in unison.

The president, Mrs. William J. Lippy, presided during the business session. The secretary's report was presented by Mrs. Preston L. Myers. The quarterly thank offering was then received. It was announced that the sixth tri-annual convention will be held in Altoona on April 24, 25 and 26. No delegate was appointed to the convention. One new member was received into the society, Mrs. Henry Barnes. The group decided to sell wonder sheets which may be purchased from any member of the society. The next meeting will be held on Holy Thursday, April 10, following the church worship service, in the Sunday school room. The social hour will be omitted. Mrs. Lloyd L. Stavelly is selected to be the leader for the topic discussion. The Thursday meeting closed with a social hour and refreshments were served by the hostess.

Scouts Plan Hikes
Pictures of scouting activities of the past year and older ones will be shown at the weekly meeting of Littlestown Boy Scout Troop No. 3 on Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the basement of the State bank building.

Troop 84 will leave on a rock and mineral hike Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock. The hike will be at the Pidgeon Hills and an experienced guide will accompany the group. On Sunday, March 23, a five-mile hike will be held as a second class scouting event. Dean Sell from the senior post will be the leader. The scouts will participate in an overnight camp at Camp Conewago on Saturday and Sunday, March 29 and 30. On Saturday and Sunday, April 26 and 27, an Appalachian Trail hike is scheduled from Brandtville to the Susquehanna river.
